LIGHTNING

QUEER PHENOMENA DURING THE HEAVY STORM.

Vari-Colored Sheets of Water on Monument Place-A Woman's Adventure with a Tub.

The storm that broke over the city yesterday afternoon was one of the most severe that has visited Indianapolis in years. Not only was there a deluge of water, but the electric accompaniment was vivid and dangerous. Prior to the storm the sun was shining with intense warmth. About 3 o'clock huge black clouds seemed to settle in the northwest. A half-hour later the clouds began to show in other skies and within a short time they all combined. Then a roar of thunder was heard, preceded by faint lightning. The rain began to fall gently. The lightning increased as did the thunder and in a short time the whole armory seemed to break loose over Indianapolis. Flash after flash of lightning came and peals of thunder crashed with such volume of sound as to send men, women and children to seek places of

The downpour of rain became greater. The rain fell in such torrents that for fully fifteen minutes no object could be discerned clearly four feet away in the open street. The Weather Bureau last night said the precipitation was 1.13 inches from 4:25 to 6 o'clock. The greatest downpour was one inch in thirty-five minutes. In one minute of that time .12 of an inch of rain fell. The wind also played an important part in the storm. During the heavy rain a strong gale from the southwest blew across the city at the rate of thirty-eight miles an hour.

On the Circle there was a fine scene. The rain was falling in such volume that the mere outline of the monument could be seen. The lightning seemed to play along the sheets of water. The water was in regular sheets and the lightning kept flitting along, dancing over the waves and changing colors as it moved.

STRUCK TUB OF WATER. Another phenomenon occurred on the West Side. An old woman was putting a comedy duo, Sidney Jerome and Frances out some tubs to catch the rain water. Meredith, appeared in a sketch, entitled One of the tubs was already full, and she was placing another beside it. A bolt of lightning flashed before her eyes, causing her to lift her head. The fluid spent its force in the tub of water. The water a monologue not less clever than his prespouted about five feet in the air, entirely covering the woman. The lightning played havoc with the telephones and fire alarm and police boxes. The wind carried away many branches of trees, cornices, shingles and tiles. The streets, after the water had subsided, were filled with rubbish The members of the bicycle police force were kept busy last night placing red lights around town where trees had been blown down during the afternoon's storm. The greatest damage was said to have been done in this line on the North Side. Along many of the streets trees that had graced the sidewalks and given shade during hot afternoons were twisted off and blown into

A large sewer along East Louisiana street was damaged, and last night red lights in profusion were placed along its sides to warn travelers of its danger. The heavy rain on top of the earth and the great flow of water through the sewer caused it to give away. A hole about two feet deep was made along the street over the sewer where the bricks had caved in. This extended sev-

Street Cars in Collision. Two West Michigan-street cars collided at Illinois and Washington streets shortly before noon yesterday. The east-bound car ran into an open switch and bumped into the west-bound car. The collision shattered the glass and timbers of the latter car and injured several of the passengers. W. H. Griffin, of 322 North California street, fell on his head. He was carried to the office of Dr. E. C. Day. He was able to walk home. Dr. A. J. Milan, who was on the east-bound car, was thrown off and suffered slight injuries.

Gold in Morgan and Brown Counties. State Geologist Blatchley thinks that gold mining in Morgan and Brown counties would pay if machinery were used. He visited Morgan county a few days ago and panned some gold as an experiment. Mr. Blatchley found that it is more plentiful than he supposed. Instead of being found only in streams as he had supposed, he traced gold in some quantity in the gravel of fields bordering the streams.

An examination of the reports made to the auditor of state for the year 1901 shows that the American Central Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis led forty old-line companies in the number of policies and volume of business written in the State during the year 1901. That, notwithstanding the fact that the American Central Life writes not over $5,000 on any one life, while many of the large companies write as of prizes by Francis M. Ingler. > B. F. Ibach, a prominent lawyer of Hammond, was at the Hotel English for lunch yesterday. He was a lifelong Democrat until the first Cleveland administration, and then he left the party, feeling that he could not reconcile his views with those advanced by Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Ibach remained with the Republicans until 1896, when, with other free-silver Republicans, he left the party to support Bryan. While he did not care to discuss politics yesterday Mr. Ibach declared that he proposed to support the Roosevelt administration, and he also declared himself a supporter of Representative Crumpacker, of the Tenth district. In a talk which he had yesterday with Dr. F. J. Van Vorhis and Worth Wright, two silver Republicans of Indianapolis, Mr. Ibach made the declaration that all silver Republicans should support President Roosevelt and his administration. Mr. Ibach asserts that such Republicans as Roosevelt and Crumpacker represent his idea of a Lincoln Republican. Referring to the gold Democrats, he says he sees no occasion for "an annex to the Republican

"GASTON AND ALPHONSO."

John W. Cravens and E. E. Corr in

Very Polite Polities. John W. Cravens, registrar of the State University, was in town yesterday. Cravens was one of the popular Democratic members of the last Indiana House of Representatives, and is being talked of in connection with the joint senatorship of Monroe, Greene and Brown counties. Elmer E. Corr, of Bloomington, is also being discussed in connection with this senatorship. With Cravens and Corr it is a sort of case of "After you my dear Alphonso." Cravens wants Corr to be a candidate and Corr wants Cravens to run. Neither wants to be in the other's way and one will not be a candidate if the other will consent to be. After the Second district convention in which Cyrus E. Davis was defeated for the Congressional nomination, it was said he could have the joint senatorship from Monroe, Greene and Brown counties if he desired it. It is understood the district is still ready to give him the nomination but t is also said that he does not want it. As the situation now stands it appears that it is "up" to Cravens or Corr to take the place. It is posible that they may continue the "Gaston and Alphonso" business until some one else steps in and secures the nomination.

AN ACTOR GOES TO ZANZIBAR.

Mason Mitchell, Rough Rider and Thespian, Made Consul.

When C. B. Rogers, of Shoals, former consul to Zanzibar, was in town the other evening he expressed the belief that no Indiana man would be appointed to succeed him. Rogers was right, for the announcement is made that Mason Mitchell, actor, lecturer and rough rider, has been appointed by President Roosevelt.

Mitchell is a New Yorker. It is said that he has enjoyed the confidence and friendship of the President ever since the Spanish war, when he joined the Roosevelt Rough Riders. After the war he lectured and took the stump for Roosevelt in the gubernatorial campaign. He served with the Canadian troops in the Louis Riel re-bellion in the Northwest. Mitchell during the past season was a member of Miss Blanche Walsh's company. He is a warm friend of Captain W. E. English, and at an Elks' entertainment in this city two or three years ago, he made a speech in which he spoke in a very complimentary way of Captain English.

Big Oil Field Near Fairmount.

A party composed of C. C. Lyons, of Fairmount; Postmaster Neal, of Jonesboro; G. A. H. Shideler and R. E. Breed, of Marion, and G. D. Kimball and R. Harry Miller, of Fairmount, took luncheon at the Columbia Club yesterday. Lyons has been nominated for senator from Grant county. He is enthusiastic over the prospects of Fairmount and vicinity as a rich oil community. He says a flow of oil was recently struck in that locality that is evidence of a rich yield. "I think we will have the richest oil fields in the country," he said.

Daniel G. Reid Here a Few Hours.

Daniel G. Reid, who is one of the powers in the financial world, has come west from New York, and was in Indianapolis part of yesterday. He came over from Richmond in his special car accompanied by H. C. Starr and other acquaintances. Mr. Reid formerly lived at Richmond, and now talks of building a palatial home there.

SMALLPOX PASSING.

Governor Durbin Gets Satisfactory Reports from Over the State. Governor Durbin had before him yesterday afternoon a summary of the smallpox cases in 34 counties, including all the river counties except Floyd, in which there is not a case. These reports show that there were on the last day of May, 270 cases. In the same counties April 30 there were 587 cases, a falling off of 317 cases during the month of May. These figures do not include Marion county, which reported 57 cases May 31, compared with 80 cases the last day of April. Thirty-five counties had 327 cases May 31, compared with 667 cases

A rather serious condition has been reported in Franklin county this week and Dr. Ferguson has gone to look after it There is a number of cases in Lafayette and in Adams county. One of the difficulties about the smallpox is that physicians do not agree in their diagnosis of the disease. In Saltillo and Leipsic, Washington county, smallpox was reported to the local board of health. When it was looked up two of the three cases were found in physicians' houses, and they called the disease chicken-pox. An official who was looking after the cases in English, Crawford county, found four men playing cards in an abandoned mill. Two of them were well broken out, the third had partly recovered, and the fourth, an old soldier, declared that he would not get it because he had been vaccinated in the army. Governor Durbin is receiving many letters from the counties in which smallpox has been reported informing him that it is passing away and that there is no danger of its spreading. The local boards of health are following the instructions of the State Board of Health. In speaking of the matter Governor Durbin said that no reports of the spread of the smallpox had been made to him since January. He took measures to inquire himself about the matter and came to the conclusion that the conditions were not such, in his opinion. as would warant an expenditure from the epidemic fund. He is now convinced from the official reports received since May 31 that his decision at that time was right, as the law contemplated the using of that fund only when the disease becomes epidemic beyond the control of the local au-

port on Thursday.

Captain William Scott Ordered Here to Take Charge.

A dispatch from Washington last night stated that the secretary of war has directed Capt. William Scott, quartermaster, now in Washington, to visit the Indianapolis arsenal and assume charge, under instructions from the quartermaster general of the army, of the repairs and construction of new buildings. It is understood that Captain Scott is to superintend alterations and the erection perhaps of a barrack in order to prepare the place for the Second Battalion of the Third Infantry, which recently arrived in San Francisco from the After Captain Scott's first report to the department estimates will be made of the cost. If the effort to establish a permanent post here fails the department may suspend its plans without cost. Senator Fairbanks telegraphed to Governor Durbin from Washington that the State's claim for $4,490.50, an assessment paid for the construction of a sewer in Tenth street, adjacent to the arsenal grounds, has been allowed and will be paid by the government.
